DESIRE FOR LIQUOR, TOBACCO.

Opium, Morphine and Other Drugs Van ishes Before the Power of Meamerism The Sight of Tobacco Nauscates the Patient, and a Toper Smilingly Declines :

CHICAGO, Ills., Nov. 30 .- Professor Charles D. Brouyette, a young hypnotist, who has just been discovered in Chicago, is said to possess mesmeric powers of a most wonderful character, And these seemingly supernatural pow-ers he intends to exert for the good of suffering humanity, and not to carry out any selfish or evil design, such as people are wont to attribute to those exercising the terrors of the evil eye, gifts of incarnation, mesmerism, etc

The professor is a young man-hardly more than a mere boy in his teens, as far as personal appearance goes-and yet he claims to have accomplished hypnotic feats that have startled some of the oldest and most experienced students of this strange art, occult science or whatever one chooses to call it. His pale, smooth, almost girlish face is framed in a shock of jet-black hair, which wavy but not absolutely curly.

But to the observant stranger the supreme feature of his noble face is his eyes; they are big and as black as the blackness of basalt. And while these eyes; they are big and as black as the bieckness of basalt. And while these eyes are apparently drowsy or sleepy in expression, they have a certain weirdness, too; they fascinate you in certain moods, like the searching, soul-piercing eyes of the basilisk; they have depth; they fix their gaze upon you, rivet your attention, and try as you will you cannot break the spell; you cannot get away from their mysterious power.

In physical build this remarkable young mesmerist is slender and boylsh. His manner in repose is also youthful and backward almost to the polat of diffidence. But when placing a patient under the spell of his hypnotic power, this seeming diffidence undergoes a wonderful formation; the boy becomes the man, all animation, earnestness, enthusiasm and will.

So much for the personal appearance and attributes of this latest prodigy who has come to notice in the much-exploited field of mesmerism. He is a Chicago man, but of French extraction. He received his education in the public schools of this city, but never had any particular consciousness of gifts in hypnotism until one day, when about sixteen years old, he came in contact with an experienced teacher of mesmerism, who recognized his latent strength in this direction and induced him to become a student of the psychic phenomena, develop his innate powers, and use them for the good of mankind.

Young Brouvette has recently estab-Young Brouyette has recently established himself in a modest flat in the quiet, prohibition suburb of Englewood. Any pedestrian or trolley car passenger passing along South Halstead street in the vicinity of Sixtleth will hardly fall to notice a big yellow sign fastened to the side of a house which proclaims to the Englewood prohibitionists and all the wayfarers who chance to travel in that dry district these glad tidings:

HYPNOTISM.

Curea liquor, morphine, to-bacco, cigarette, and all use-less habits, stammering in speech, catching of the breath, etc. I remove all ideas that cause trouble.

If any man is a slave of drink let him consult hypnotism and there find a panacea. Hypnotism in its modern phases has accomplished wonders. There has never yet been discovered a man who could put an idea into an empty head; but here in Chicago this young man has come to light who, for a consideration, offers to remove all ideas of a troublesome nature.

Never before in the history of Chicaton has any man set himself up to any Never before in the history of Chicago has any man set himself up to accomplish these things through the mysterious forces of hypnotism. But now there has arisen this young man, who claims he is not only able to remove all troublesome ideas, but who says he is specially endowed with the powers that will set a man free from whisky, morphine, crarettes or plug tobacco. In France this science of hypnotism is much better understeed that it is here; but this boy not only studied here, but accomplished some of his most wonderful results among the friends who knew him best.

For example, he recently took as a patient a young man who was addicted to tobacco. This young man was in the habit of smoking one handred and fifty cigarettes in a day. After placing him in a chair and waving his hands over him in mesmeric fashion, he told him to go to sleep. Immediately the subject fell under the influence of the hypnotist and seemed to be under complete control. The welrdness of the hypnotist now became apparent. Nothing could be seen but the glitter of his big black eyes and sinuous movements of his long, skeleton-like arms. Soon the patient was apparently in a sound sleep.

The cigarette fiend was then asked if he would like to smoke, Of course he would like to smoke, And the hypnotist handed him a lead pencil, which he smoked with manifastations of the smoke the patient was apparently in a sound sleep.

The cigarette fiend was then asked if he would like to smoke. Of course he would like to smoke. Of course he would like to smoke. And the hypnotist handed him a lead pencil, which he smoked with manifastations of the greatest enjoyment. Then the hypnotist passed his hands over his subject's face, in the same mesmeric manner, and said "Wake up," which the young man did without delay. He was again put to sleep and told that smoking was injurious, that he would no longer desire to smoke after waking. This was the mode of treatrient.

In the next place a man with a big bottle nose and a strong whisky breath was brought before the hypnotist. Upon examination it appeared the bottle nosed man had been drinking for twenty-three years. Professor Brouyette put him in the cataleptic state in a few minutes, by a Bittle waving of the hands, or what some ignorant people call pow-wowing. Then be said: "Here is a glass of whisky," when as a matter of fact it was nothing but a glass of water.

He drank the water with as much of water.

He deank the water with as much relish as if had been old Kentucky whisky. Then the hypnotist said "What I'm giving you is injurious to your health; you must give it up; it is killing you; when you wake up all desire for it will be gone."

The subject was brought out of his trance. Thereupon the lecturer described to his subject all the evils of intemperance and told him how to get rid of the trouble.

perance and told him how to get rid of the trouble.

The hypnotist in the next case took a young man who had been a slave to plug tobacco for fifteen years. He put him under the hypnotic influence without the least difficulty, and then offered him an ordinary business card, telling him it was the finest brand of tobacco. The patient immediately began to bite and chew this card as if it had been the linest tobacco in the world. Then the hypnotist said: "How do you like that?" "That's face tobacco."

"Well," said the hypnotist, "I want to help you; I want to cure of the tobacco habit; it is injuring you; it is destroying your health. Now, I want to tell you that you don't want any more tobacco; you don't desire it any more, do you? You wouldn't take a chew now if you could, would you?"

if you could, would you?"
In this way, says Professor Brouy-ette, the desire for hablis that are in-jurious are removed. In ette, the desire for habits that are infurious are removed. In regard to how soon he can accomplish a cure, it is all owing, he says, to the temperament of the patient. Sometimes, he claims, he can cure a slave in one or two treatments, and then again there are cases which require from three to ten treatments. Of course, where a habit has been fixed on a man for several years, he says, you would not expect it to be removed in a minute. Habits are of slow growth, but they become second nature to a man. Habits often lead a man to the grave.

Professor Brouyette said that of all the flends he has ever had to treat the morphine fiend is the worst. In a case where a man has been using morphine of opium in any form for any ienath of time, it requires the greatest skill in judgment and often weeks in treatment before he can get them divorced from their trouble. It is a great thing to remove ideas that trouble the mind.

Hypnotism, according to Professor

mind.

Hypnotism, according to Professor Brouyette, is a thing that anybody can practice, but not all with the same degree of success. He made a study of gree of success. He made a study of the sclence under an advanced teacher right here in Chicago. He says that almost every person is able to hyp-notize a man, or woman that is amen-able; and then again there are other operators who have much more mag-netic power. So far as he himself is concerned, he is able to put nine per-sons out of every ten under the hyp-notic influence. This is his record.

sons out of every ten under the hypnotic influence. This is his record.

There is nothing new in the bare idea of hypnotism. But never before has a man in Chicago advertised that he would cure liquor, morphine, and to-bacco habits by the application of this science. He claims to have cured a good many patients troubled with these different complaints.

Professor Brouyette tells of one case that is very interesting. A lady of great wealth, whose husband was one of the most prominent bushess men in this city, had secretly become a slave to the morphine habit. She had tried all kinds of remedies and failed. She was in despair. She went to Europe and visited the different health resorts and consulted the most famous physicians. Then at last she heard of this hypnotism and tried it. The result was that inside of a fortnight she was cured, and she has been free from this habit ever since.

"There are two cardinal principles in

Then at last see heard of this appnotism and tried it. The result was that inside of a fortnight she was cured, and she has been free from this habit ever since.

There are two cardinal principles in my method of treatment, said Professor Brouyette. "The first is, as I have already remarked, that while the patient is in a cataleptic state I remove all desire from the mind for the particular form of indulgence with which or she has become afflicted. I do this in an impressive and permanent way that is only known to one who practices hypnotism. In the next place, when I bring the patient out of the cataleptic state, I carefully explain the evil effects of the habit and leave nature to build up the broken system.
Sometimes this can be done in a single treatment, then again a case may require several treatments. But the one fixed idea which I never allow to dpart from the patient's mind is that the desire is gone, and gone to stay forever. As soon as nature has done her part in restoring the dilapidated functions there is no more danger of the patient's returning to the habit that there was before he had first begun to indules it."

Professor Brouyelte has a good many funny experiences in removing troublesome ideas from the minds of some of the persons who call upon him.

One day last week he received a call from a young woman who wanted to get rid of the idea that she was destined to become an old maid. After applying the mesmeric force he had no difficulty in convincing her that her notion was erroncous—that she would be a happy bride at twenty-five and that her husband would be a rich man.
There was not a happier young woman in all Englewood the next day. She was so elated that she told her friends about the scance, and thus the secret leaked out. One treatment was sufficient in her case.

Perhaps the most remarkable case which has yet come within the young hypnosist's experience is that of a man who lately consulted him in order to escape from the idea which had fixed itself on his

Avoid An Early Grave.

How often do we hear, that the avenue to an early grave was opened by neglecting a slight cough and cold. Profit by this truth, and provide yourself with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which instantly cures all throat and lung affections. Mr. W. H. Mahoney, Lowell, Mass., writes: "I was taken sick with a bad cold. The doctors did not seem to help me, and everybody said I was getting consumption, when a relative recommended Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. I got a bottle and it helped me, and after taking two bottles I was cured, to the surprise of everybody. I shall always recommend it to my friends, as I know it to be a sure cure." Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is sold everywhere for 25 cents. Don't accept a substitute.

The old postmaster at Evanston, was charged with going out of his jurisdiction to sell stamps and postal supplies, as to increase the receipts of his office and raise his salary and allowances. This is regarded as a serious violation of the rules and works to the detriment of adjacent offices. The summary action in the case of the Mexico, Mo., postmaster, is the outcome of numerous serious charges which have been on file here since the pollical campaign closed. They include pernicious activity in politics, insulting the President and making attacks upon him, alleged neglect of office and other offenses.

He is a believer in free silver coinage and the complaints set out that during the campaign he made himself obnoxious by breaking up gatherings of the opposite political faith. In the neighborhood of a hundred postoffices are involved in charges of pernicious activity in politics now filed with Postmaster General Wilson. They include a number of big offices, against whose heads serious accusations are made. The policy of the postmaster general has been to act as leniently as possible and make removals only where necessary, and accordingly all the charges sary and accordingly all the charges sary half a dozen have so far been ignored, though action on a number of the others will shortly follow. nored, though action on a number of the others will shortly follow.

TYPHUS AND ANTI-TOXINE

Profs. Pfeipper and Kalle will Give Their Discoveries to the World.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.— Commercial Agent Sawter reports to the state department from Glauchau the state department from Glauchau, Germany, on recent experiments by Professors Pfeipper and Kalle with "typhus anti-toxine." If the hopes of the professors are realized medical science will receive a most valuable accession through their discoveries. The experimenters believe that typhus germs, like cholera germs, may be traced back to the existence in the blood of anti-typhoid substances. The typhoid bacilius is known to exist largely, in well and spring water and the fact that they are frequently the direct cause of infection is recognized by bacteriol-gisfs.

infection is recognized by bacteriolgists.
Consequently the experiments, the report sets forth, tend to trace the existence of these germs and by locating them, preserving numberless lives. It is shown that between the ages of twenty and twenty-five, persons are most prone to the development of the typhus—anti-toxine can easily and quickly be inoculated, proving of great benefit, especially in time of epidemic. The entire results of the experiments will soon be published for the benefit of the medical world.

President Borda has received a dispatch from Cerro Largo near the Brazilian frontier, which says that General Munoz, the Uruguayan commander, who pursued Saraiva, overtook the latter and was defeated in a battle which followed. General Muniz is reported to have been taken a prisoner. His son who was captured on the frontier some days ago, is dead. It is not known whether he was killed by the orders of Saraiva, as his body was found by a party making a reconnoissance near villa De Cerro largo in the ruins of a house which had been burned by the rebels. Roosevelt's Slippery Way.

Theodore Roosevelt was not always the fluent orator and ready extemporuncous speaker that he is to-day, but this is not a matter of surprise, as precedity is never a proof of greatness, although it has in many noted instances characterized those who afterward became great. Theodore Roosevelt was a wideawake, hustling youth, good at his books, but better at his sports, a lover of all outdoors and a healthy, hearty, sturdy American boy. At school he was required to write essays, deliver orations and "speak pieces" just as are all schoolboys in these modern days, and his old playmates still delight to relate how "Thed" brought the house down by his method of rendering that old stand-by "Marco Bozzaris."
